Long Island Resident Inducted into John Hancock Financial Network's Hall of Fame

Boston, Mass. –April 25, 2012-- Long Island resident and financial services leader Beverly Wendt, CFP® of Atlantic Financial Partners Group, will be inducted into John Hancock Financial Network's Hall of Fame.

With more than 26 years of service in the financial industry, Wendt has been the recipient of numerous awards for serving clients. Her areas of expertise are financial planning strategies, long-term care planning strategies, products for retirement funding, portfolio building and estate conservation strategies.

“To be inducted into JHFN's Hall of Fame, financial representatives must have proven their commitment to providing exceptional client service throughout their careers,” explained Brian Heapps, CLU, ChFC, president, John Hancock Financial Network. “We look to our ‘Hall of Famers’ to be role models in our business based on a foundation of integrity and service. It's a great pleasure to welcome Beverly as one of our newest inductees.”

Wendt is a member of the Financial Planning Association of Long Island, NAIFA and a Lifetime Member MDRT. She received her Bachelor's degree from SUNY Stony Brook, and has a Master's degree from Hofstra University.

Locally, she had also been involved in Kiwanis Club where she served as President of the local chapter and on the Board of Directors. Under her leadership at the Three Village Kiwanis Club, the Club supported two local soup kitchens, provided 26 dinners for soup kitchen families at Thanksgiving, and gave 200 gifts to soup kitchen children around the holidays.
